2019 Harvest Grain Policies

Open Storage and Delayed Price (DP) will be available for corn and soybeans this year. Storage could be subject to limitation.

The daily storage rate for corn is $0.00165/bu/day. The daily DP rate for corn is $0.00133/bu/day

The daily storage rate for beans is $0.00187/bu/day. The daily DP rate for beans is $0.00167/bu/day

There will not be any minimum charges for Open Storage or DP during the 2019 harvest season.

All corn bushels will be shrunk & dried to 15% moisture. (includes contracted or open storage bushels)

Soybeans will be discounted if the moisture is above 13%.

There is no averaging of loads.

If grain is sold in the first 10 days from the average date of delivery no storage will be assessed. If nothing is done, the bushels will be placed in storage.

Unless told otherwise, the first grain delivered will be considered grain delivered on contract.

Grain in Open Storage or Delayed Price must be sold at the cash bid for the current delivery period at the location it was delivered. In-store grain cannot be applied to a to-arrive contract. Grain that is sold on to-arrive contracts for delivery in deferred months must be delivered during the delivery period that it was sold for on the contract.

Income from grain sales can be deferred to a later date without interest. Once this income is put on a Deferred Payment contract, it cannot be voided.

Frontier Cooperative also offers Minimum Price contracts, and additional marketing solutions that can be custom fit to any producer's needs. Contact your local branch, or Grain Marketing Advisor for more details.
